REFLECTION
FOUR THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT
OFFERING MASS FOR LOVED ONES

First, you are not buying a Mass. Mass has no price tag. It is customary to give an offering when requesting a Mass, but you can request one even when you cannot afford to give anything. But when one can afford and give the stipend (a portion of their own resources), the donor associates him or herself more intimately with Christ perfect sacrifice on the cross, which is made present during the Eucharist.

Second, Masses can be offered for both the living and the dead. We can ask God for a loved one’s conversion, healing, thanksgiving or other needs. And we can offer the Mass for the dead, especially for souls undergoing purification in purgatory. The Council of Trent (1845-1863) taught that the Eucharistic sacrifice is offered for the faithful who are living and for those who have died in Christ but are not yet fully purified.

Third, you can offer a Mass for many other intentions: a birthday, an anniversary, thanksgiving for God’s blessings, a new job, healing, conversion, protection, a difficult situation. We bring these intentions to God through the one perfect sacrifice of Christ.

Fourth, the Mass is the most powerful and greatest prayer we have. At every Mass, Christ offers himself to the Father, and we are united to that one sacrifice. We do not offer Christ again. We participate sacramentally in the one sacrifice of Calvary and that is why offering a Mass for someone is such a profound act of love.

So, the next time you have a loved one you desperately want to help, have a mass offered for them. Bring them to the altar and entrust them to Christ.

CUATRO COSAS QUE DEBES SABER
SOBRE OFRECER MISA POR LOS SERES
QUERIDOS

Primero, no estás comprando una Misa. La Misa no tiene precio. Es costumbre dar una ofrenda al solicitar una Misa, pero puedes solicitar una incluso cuando no puedes permitirte dar nada. Pero cuando uno puede permitírselo y dar el estipendio (una parte de sus propios recursos), el donante se asocia más íntimamente con el sacrificio perfecto de Cristo en la cruz, que se hace presente durante la Eucaristía.

Segundo, las misas pueden ofrecerse tanto por los vivos como por los muertos. Podemos pedir a Dios la conversión, la sanación, la acción de gracias u otras necesidades de un ser querido. Y podemos ofrecer la misa por los difuntos, especialmente por las almas que están pasando por la purificación en el purgatorio. El Concilio de Trento (1845-1863) enseñó que el sacrificio eucarístico se ofrece por los fieles que están vivos y por aquellos que han muerto en Cristo pero aún no están completamente purificados.

En tercer lugar, puedes ofrecer una Misa por muchas otras intenciones: un cumpleaños, un aniversario, acción de gracias por las bendiciones de Dios, un nuevo trabajo, sanación, conversión, protección, una situación difícil. Presentamos estas intenciones a Dios a través del único sacrificio perfecto de Cristo.

Cuarto, la Misa es la oración más poderosa y grandiosa que tenemos. En cada Misa, Cristo se ofrece a sí mismo al Padre, y nosotros nos unimos a ese único sacrificio. No volvemos a ofrecer a Cristo. Participamos sacramentalmente en el único sacrificio del Calvario y por eso ofrecer una Misa por alguien es un acto de amor tan profundo.

Así que, la próxima vez que tengas a un ser querido a quien quieras ayudar desesperadamente, haz que se celebre una misa por esa persona. Llévala al altar y encomiéndala a Cristo.
