REFLECTION

Amos, in the first reading, issues a powerful warning to those who seek wealth at the expense of the poor and who spend their time and their money on themselves alone. He prophesies that those rich and self-indulgent people will be punished by God with exile because they don't care for their poor and suffering brothers. The Responsorial Psalm praises Yahweh, who cares for the poor. In the second reading, Paul admonishes us to "pursue righteousness, devotion, faith, love, patience and gentleness" – noble goals in an age of disillusionment – rather than riches. In today's Gospel, Jesus gives us a warning, pointing to the destiny of the rich man who neglected his duty to show mercy to poor Lazarus.

Why should God punish the innocent? Naturally, we are tempted to ask the question, "Why was the rich man punished?" He did not drive either the poor beggar or the stray dogs from in front of his door, nor did he prevent either from sharing the discarded crumbs and leftovers from his table.

The Fathers of the Church find three culpable omissions in the rich man in the parable. a) He neglected the poor beggar at his door by not helping him to treat his illness or giving him a small house to live in. b) He ignored the scrolls of Sacred Scriptures kept on his table reminding him of Yahweh's commandment in the book of Leviticus (15: 7-11) "Don't deny help to the poor. Be liberal in helping the widows and the homeless." c) He led a life of luxury and self-indulgence totally ignoring the poor people around him, with Cain's attitude: "Am I the guardian of my brother?" It is not wrong to be rich, but it is wrong not to share our blessings with our less fortunate brothers and sisters.

God has blessed each one of us with wealth, health, special talents, social power, political influence, or a combination of many blessings. The parable invites us to share what we have been given with others in various ways, instead of using everything exclusively for selfish gains.

THE MONTH OF THE ROSARY

The month of October is dedicated to the Holy Rosary. It is a form of contemplative prayer, mental and vocal prayer, which brings down God's blessing on the Church. The Memorial of Our Lady of the Rosary is celebrated on Oct. 7th. Please join us in Corning at 11:00 a.m. for the Patriotic Rosary.

The rosary is also said before each weekend mass in both parishes.
